

Unit 2 Lesson 3 – But I think Arabic is more difficult.

Complete the sentences using the correct superlatives

Adjectives

1. The pen is _____ thing in this room. cheap

2. We are _____ during the summer season. busy

3. That restaurant makes _____ apple pie. delicious

4. Our team's _____ point is cooperation. weak

5. Your _____ nightmare is about to come true. bad

6. A Walk to Remember is _____ movie I've watched. sad

Learn today's targets.

Grammar Focus

- Comparatives vs. Superlatives
- Common errors
- Intensifiers

Key Expressions

- You are learning the most difficult language in the world!
- But I think Arabic is more difficult.

Listen to the teacher and repeat.

unbelievable

dance move

in a hurry

linguist

Aya: Hi, Rio. Your dance was unbelievable!

Rio: Thanks, Aya. I'd love to show you more dance moves. But I don't have much time now.

Aya: Why are you in a hurry?

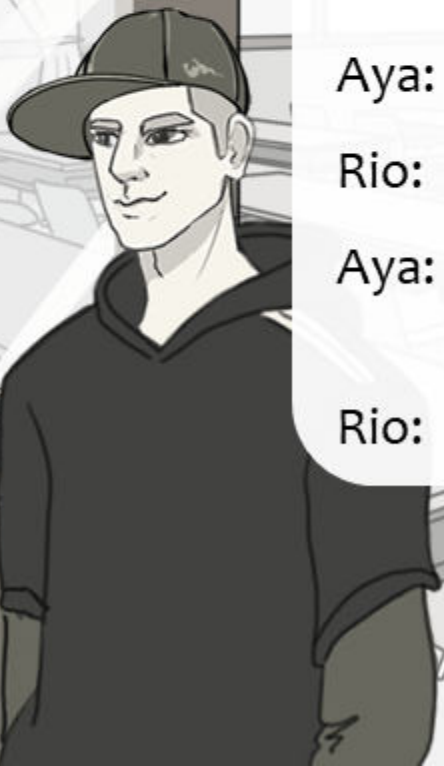

Rio: I have a Chinese lesson in 10 minutes.

Aya: You are learning the most difficult language in the world!

Rio: But I think Arabic is more difficult.

Aya: You are such a linguist! Share me some interesting experiences of learning languages when you have time.

Rio: Sure! See you around.

Learn the grammar.

Comparatives vs. Superlatives

Comparatives

compare two things

Japanese is more difficult than French.

Superlatives

compare three or more things

Chinese is the most difficult language (compared to other languages).

Learn the grammar.

Common Errors

1 Double comparatives or superlatives.

Sam is more faster than Mary.

I bake the bestest chocolate cake.

2 Use different degrees for the same noun.

She is the tallest and (the most) intelligent student.

3 Wrong order of adjectives.

✗ You are more polite and nicer than Ken.

✓ You are nicer and more polite than Ken.

Intensifiers:

used to stress the descriptions

very interesting

really impressive

totally destroyed

much more difficult than

far better than

a lot older than

by far the most difficult

easily the strongest

Tick (✓) if the sentence is correct and put an (X) if it isn't.

- 1. Of the three boys, Ethan is the most handsome.
- 2. Mary is the brightest and kind staff in the coffee shop.
- 3. Chinese is more complicated and harder than Japanese.
- 4. The situation was far worse than we expected.
- 5. She has the most perfect smile.
- 6. Something terrible has happened.

Situation: You and your friends are talking about learning different languages.

Share your thoughts toward different languages.

- Comparatives
- Superlatives

Read what we learned today.

- Word Focus

- unbelievable

dance move

- in a hurry

linguist

- Grammar Focus

- Comparatives vs. Superlatives

- Common errors

- Intensifiers