

Unit 3 Lesson 5 – Let's have a coffee break together, shall we?

Change the sentences from active to passive and vice versa.

1. We painted the entire room.
2. The video was posted online by Mia.
3. The students always ask questions.
4. The chair was being repaired by dad.
5. The report was submitted by the staff.
6. We gave him the authority to use the key.

---

---

---

---

---

---

Introduce today's sentences.

Grammar Focus

- Tag Questions (Positive and Negative Tags)
- Tag Questions Rule Exceptions

Key Expressions

- Let's have a coffee break together, shall we?
- This coffee machine will work, won't it?
- Pass me some of it, can you?

Listen to the teacher and repeat.

coffee break

breather

frustrated

fail

unwind

Listen to the audio and repeat.

- Aya: Hi Olivia. Let's have a coffee break together, shall we?
- Olivia: Cool. I'd love to, Aya. I think I badly need a breather this time.
- Aya: Is everything alright?
- Olivia: I'm really frustrated right now. I spent a long time editing my work, but my computer suddenly shut down. I failed to save my work.
- Aya: Oh. What a pity!
- Olivia: I will just try to redo it later.
Anyway, this coffee machine will work, won't it?
- Aya: I'm sure it will work. Jackson used it earlier this morning.
Do you have some sugar there?
- Olivia: Yes, I have it here.
- Aya: Pass me some of it, can you?
- Olivia: Sure, Aya. Here you go!
- Aya: Thanks, Olivia. Let us unwind first and get back to work soon afterward.

 Learn the grammar structures.

Tag Questions

- are used at the end of the statements
- to ask for confirmation

A positive statement + a negative question tag

She is your sister, isn't she?
He reads his books, doesn't he?

A negative statement + a positive question tag

She isn't your sister, is she?
He doesn't read his books, does he?

NOTE: Negative auxiliaries and verbs in tags are usually in their contracted form (n't)

✓ doesn't he?

✗ does not he?

Learn the grammar structures.

Statements begin with I'm

We use the verb form are/aren't I when the subject is the first person singular.

Examples:

I'm intelligent, aren't I?

I am part of this team, aren't I?

I'm not in the correct spot, am I?

Statements begin with Let's

We use shall we after sentences with Let's.

Examples:

Let's wash the dishes, shall we?

Let's go to the supermarket, shall we?

Let's drive to the town, shall we?

Learn the grammar structures.

With Imperatives

We use won't you for invitations and can you/ can't you/ will you/ would you for orders.

Examples:

Take a seat, won't you?

Close the door, can you?

Don't touch, will you?

Statements begin with This

When the subject is this, we use it in the tag question.

Examples:

This is your house, isn't it?

This will work, won't it?

This can open the lid, can't it?

Choose and underline the correct question tags.

1. She is a professional swimmer, (isn't she, is she)?
2. Open the book, (isn't it, can you)?
3. I am so gorgeous tonight, (am I, aren't I)?
4. Let's stroll in the mall, (shall we, would we)?
5. He has written a novel, (isn't he, hasn't he)?
6. This washing machine functions well, (does it, doesn't it)?

Read the situations and create statements with question tags according to the type given.

1

You would like to invite your friend on a trip to another country.

(Statement begins with Let's)

---

3

You would like other people to confirm that you are a kind person.

(Statement begins with I'm)

2

You would like your daughter to water the plants.

(With Imperative)

---

4

You would like to ask your colleague if the equipment in the office works well.

(Statement begins with This)

Situation: Imagine yourself talking with your friends and asking for their confirmation about these things:

- good qualities you think you have
- plans you want to accomplish with them
- things you want them to do for you
- questions about the gadgets you and your friends have

Please use the grammar structures you learned today.

---- Tag Questions (Positive and Negative Tags)

Word Focus

coffee break

breather

frustrated

fail

unwind

Grammar Focus

- Tag Questions (Positive and Negative Tags)
- Tag Questions Rule Exceptions

