

Unit 3 Lesson 6 – I think this coffee is best paired with plenty of cookies.

Match the statements with the correct tags.

1. She has not received the mail yet, _____?
2. I haven't seen you for a year, _____?
3. He told you about my story, _____?
4. I am beautiful, _____?
5. Your mother is so occupied, _____?
6. Let's clean the store, _____?

has she?
have I?
shall we?
didn't he?
aren't I?
isn't she?

Introduce today's sentences.

Grammar Focus

- Expressions of Quantity: Countable vs. Uncountable
- Collective Nouns

Key Expressions

- I think this coffee is best paired with plenty of cookies.
- I have a large amount of work to do today.
- The board of directors is currently on their way to our office.

Listen to the teacher and repeat.

pungent

cupboard

best paired

director

committee

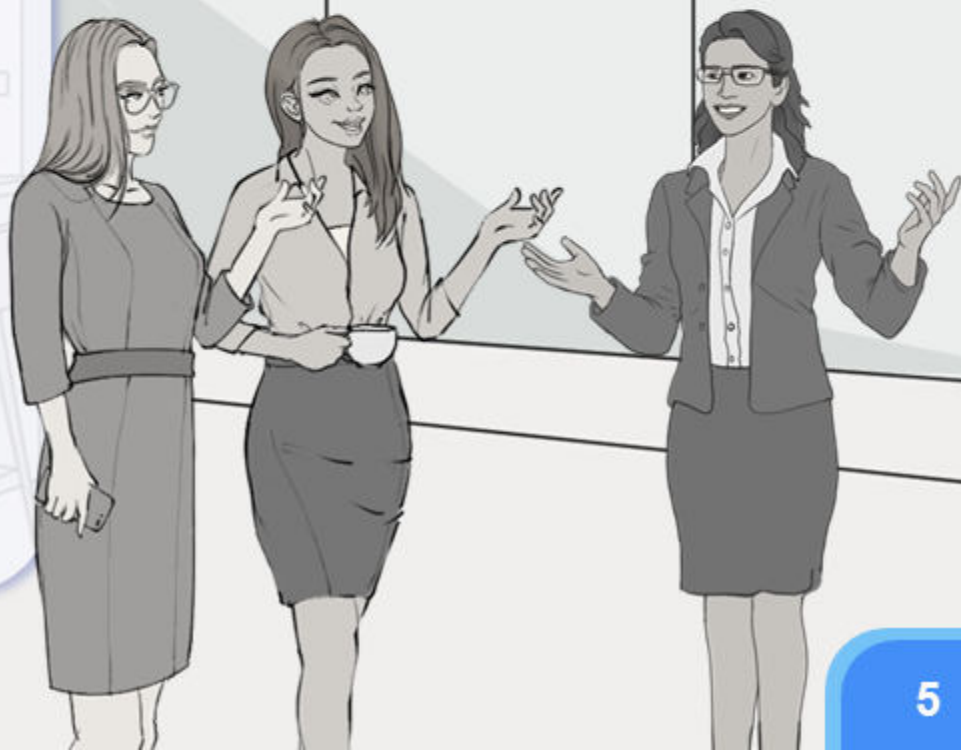

parched

Listen to the audio and repeat.

- Olivia: This coffee tastes so good, Aya.
Aya: Good for you. My coffee tastes so pungent. I'll just have some orange juice instead.
Olivia: Is there any juice in the cupboards?
Aya: I will just try to search first.
Olivia: Sure. But I think this coffee is best paired with plenty of cookies.
Aya: I don't think we have any of those, Olivia.

Team Leader Lina comes in ...

- Lina: Hello, ladies. Can you do me a favor?
I have a large amount of work to do today.
Aya: Sure thing. What is it, Lina?
Lina: The board of directors is currently on their way to our office.
 Could you please buy me two boxes of pizza and a few cans of soda?
Olivia: All right, Lina. Aya and I will do it.
Lina: Thanks to you both. But could you also include 3 bottles of water?
 The committee feels so parched now.
Olivia: No problem, Lina. We will go to the shop now.

Learn more expressions of quantity.

Expressions of Quantity

Countable	Uncountable
a small / large number of people several buildings dozens of rooms majority of employees	a small / large amount of work a great deal of money a bit of information
Countable & Uncountable
all bicycles most books plenty of students a small / large quantity of candies	all furniture most paper plenty of rice a small / large quantity of water

REVIEW

many much a lot of some any a few
 a little is there any ...
 are there any ...
 how many ...
 how much ...

Learn some example sentences for the expressions of quantity.

Countable

A large number of people are watching.

There are several buildings in my city.

Dozens of rooms have been repainted.

Most books were bought from the shop.

I can eat only a small quantity of candies.

Uncountable

I have a large amount of work to do today.

My aunt has a great deal of money in the bank.

He knows a bit of information about the project.

Most furniture in the office is brand new.

A large quantity of water is needed for the trees to grow fast.

Learn the grammar structures.

Collective Nouns

a type of noun that expresses a name of a collection of a bunch of several people, objects, things, animals, etc.

Structure Rules:

- Use a singular verb with a collective noun acting as a single unit.
- Use a plural verb when the individual members of the group are acting individually.

Examples:

The class listens to their teacher carefully.

The class answer their assignments on their own.

The committee is having a meeting right now.

The committee are allowed to leave the meeting soon.

COLLECTIVE NOUNS

board
committee
group panel
class
staff collection bunch set flock herd swarm

Encircle the correct quantifier.

1. I only have a small amount / a small number of time.
2. We still have a great deal of / several bananas on the table.
3. She feels sad. She doesn't have plenty of / a bit of friends.
4. Carol earned a great deal of / dozens of money.
5. I can speak a small number / dozens / a bit of German.
6. I ate majority of / all / several of the meat during dinner last night.

Give the suitable collective noun shown in the picture and choose the correct verb to complete the sentences.

The _____ (fly, flies)
to the eastern side of the country.

The _____ (cover, covers)
to the eastern side of the country.

The _____ (is, are) doing their individual projects.

The _____ (discuss, discusses) whether to terminate the contract or not.

Situation: Talk to your friend about the food you like and the specific choices you have for your food.

(Use the grammar structures you learned today.)

---- Expressions of Quantity

---- Collective Nouns

● Word Focus

pungent

cupboard

best paired

director

committee

parched

Grammar Focus

- Expressions of Quantity: Countable vs. Uncountable
- Collective Nouns

