

Lesson 23 Are You Making a Sandwich?

Write the present participle form.

Review

sit

draw

eat

stop

plan

get

Listen to the dialogue.

Dialogue

Bo:

Are you making a hamburger, Aya?

Aya:

Yes, I am.

Are you making a sandwich, Bo?

Bo:

Yes, I am. I'm putting bread, ham, lettuce, tomatoes, and cheese.

Listen, repeat and learn.

Words

hamburger

sandwich

bread

ham

lettuce

cheese

Do a role-play.

Dialogue

Bo:

Are you making a hamburger, Aya?

Aya:

Yes, I am.

Are you making a sandwich, Bo?

Bo:

Yes, I am. I'm putting bread, ham, lettuce, tomatoes, and cheese.

What is Bo putting in his sandwich?

lettuce

tomatoes

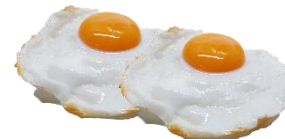

onions

cheese

eggs

uncountable nouns

We can't count.

bread

x a bread
breads

beef

x a beef
beefs

lettuce

x a lettuce
lettuces

cheese

x a cheese
cheeses

Identify the uncountable nouns.

Check

beer

paper clip

oil

sandwich

paper

lemon

rice

uncountable
nouns

make

make a sandwich

make a cake

make cookies

Listen, repeat and learn.

Expressions

Are you making pancakes?

Yes, I am.

Are you making tea?

No, I'm not.
I'm making coffee.

present participles

verbs ending in -e

remove -e

add -ing

make → making

dance → dancing

smile → smiling

1. We are _____ (skate) in the park.

2. Are you _____ (live) in the city?

3. I'm _____ (write) a story.

4. John is _____ (drive) a new car.

5. Are you _____ (have) a hamburger?

Ethan: Hello, Ethan. What are you _____ (do)?

Greg: I'm _____ (make) sushi with rice, nori, sesame, fish and cucumber.
_____ are you?

Ethan: I'm _____ the park.

Greg: Are you _____ (jog)?

Ethan: No, _____ not.
I'm _____ (play) basketball.

Fill in the blanks, and do a role-play.

Role-Play

Are you _____ a sandwich?

No, I'm _____.
I'm making a _____.

What are you putting _____ your hamburger?

_____, onions, _____,
beef, lettuce, and _____.

You are making something to eat.