TOPIC

Conversation for Idioms

It is a three-hour drive from here to the venue. We should hit the road now.

My mother will be mad at me because I am moving at a snail's pace. I should move quicker.

We had a whale of a time at the party last night that we did not want to go home.

People are already tired of waiting. Let us get the show on the road before they start going home.

TRAVEL

- hit the road to leave or begin a journey
- 2. at a snail's pace extremely slowly
- 3. have a whale of a time to enjoy oneself very much
- 4. get the show on the road to begin an activity that has been planned

Amy was dressed to kill in a green dress, sparkling necklace, and heels.

Selena cuts a dash in her dress during the college ball. Everyone is looking at her.

Mr. Smith looks like a million dollars in his new tie. I guess it is quite expensive.

He was all skin and bones after he got sick.

APPEARANCE

1. dressed to kill

dressed in fancy or stylish clothes to impress people

2. cut a dash

to look attractive, especially by wearing fashionable clothes

3. look/ feel like a million dollars/ bucks look extremely good

4. all skin and bones

a condition or state of extreme thinness

I was on top of the world when I received my gift.

He was a little bit down in the dumps when he lost the game.

Sandra was on pins and needles waiting for her entrance exam results.

The call from his client makes his blood boil.

EMOTIONS [1]

- 1. on top of the world happy and elated
- 2. down in the dumps(of a person) depressed or unhappy
- 3. on pins and needles in a nervous or jumpy state of anticipation
- 4. make one's blood boil make someone angry

Drew gets butterflies in his stomach whenever he speaks on stage in front of so many people.

I had ants in my pants when I accidentally broke my brother's smartphone.

I was going to go rock climbing, but I chickened out at the last minute.

Okay, don't have a cow. I lost your laptop, but I got you a new one.

EMOTIONS [2]

butterflies in one's stomach
 to be nervous or anxious about something

2. ants in your pants

unable to sit still or remain calm out of nervousness or excitement

3. to chicken out

to decide not to do something because of fear

4. (don't) have a cow

to be very upset or angry about something

Jill always cries her eyes out while watching sappy movies.

It would be a huge weight off his shoulders if he paid all his debts.

I hope your performance goes well tonight, Linda. Go break a leg out there!

I get cold feet just looking at the roller coaster.

BODY

- cry one's eyes out to cry a lot for a long period of time
- 2. weight off one's shoulders to no longer have to worry about something
- break a leg to wish someone good luck, especially before a performance
- get cold feet to become too nervous to do something

36

Example Sentences

You have to be ready to face the music of your wrong actions.

> My teacher's compliments were music to my ears.

I used to hate banana cakes when I was young, but now I sing a different tune.

> Jeremy blows his own trumpet by showing off his money to us.

MUSIC

- 1. face the music to accept unpleasant consequences
- 2. music to one's ears something that is pleasant to hear
- 3. sing a different tune change one's opinion
- 4. blow one's own trumpet to boast about oneself

I tried to break the ice by talking to him.

It was raining cats and dogs yesterday.

The whole idea is just a storm in a teacup. The argument is nothing.

I consider my friends as my ray of sunshine.

WEATHER

1. break the ice

to ease the nervousness in a situation

2. rain cats and dogs

to rain very hard

3. storm in a teacup

to get angry about something unimportant

4. ray of sunshine

a cheerful person who makes you feel happy

Before we begin our project, we must get our ducks in a row.

> Fiona took the bull by the horns and told her noisy roommate to move out of her apartment.

Joe's issue was supposed to be a secret, but she let the cat out of the bag.

> Sean is lazy and doesn't do much at work, but he gets the lion's share of the profit.

ANIMALS (2)

1. get one's ducks in a row

to make all the necessary preparations for doing something

2. take the bull by the horns

to deal with a difficult, dangerous, or unpleasant situation bravely

3. let the cat out of the bag

to unintentionally or accidentally reveal a secret

4. to have/get the lion's share

to have the largest part or share, especially a disproportionate portion

Ben wanted to buy my house, but the ship has sailed. Lara already bought it.

I did not know that our trip was canceled. I was just spinning my wheels packing my things all this time.

Tom should be busy doing his homework, but it seems like he is just sleeping at the wheel.

I should paddle my own canoe now that I have moved out of my parents' house.

TRANSPORTATION

- the ship has sailed an opportunity has already passed
- 2. spin one's wheel to waste time and effort doing things that achieve nothing
- 3. sleep at the wheel not paying attention to problems or important things
- 4. paddle one's own canoe to be independent and self-sufficient

The dress her mom gave her fits like a glove.

Winning as the best actor was a feather in his cap.

Luke is in the pocket of Rose. He always believes and follows what she says.

Mary always wears her heart on her sleeve so that everyone knows how she feels.

CLOTHES

- 1. fit like a glove be the right size or to be well suited
- 2. feather in his cap an achievement or honor that someone can be proud of
- 3. in the pocket of someone to be completely controlled by someone
- 4. wears one's heart on one's sleeve to show one's emotions very openly

