Write

In our last lesson, Lily wrote her first draft of a persuasive paragraph. Now she is going to revise, edit and publish it.

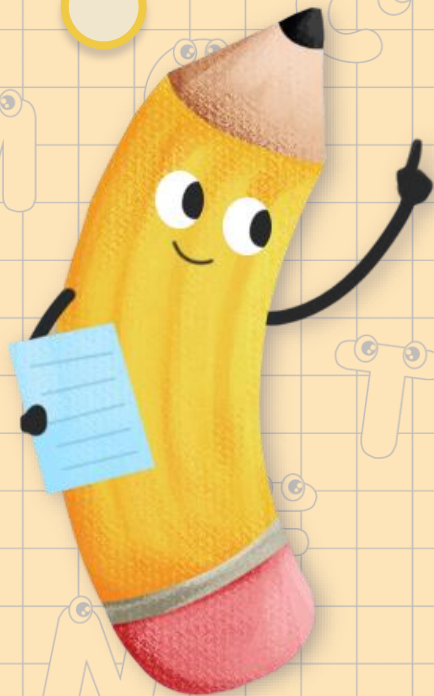

We should walk in the halls it helps us
be quiet. We can see where we are going.
Walking helps everyone stay safe.
Always walk in the halls.

Today we'll learn ...

The Writing Process of a Persuasive Paragraph: Revise & Edit & Publish

Revise

Step 1: Read

Lily reads her first draft to her friend Alice.

We should walk in the halls it helps us
be quiet. We can see where we are going.

Walking helps everyone stay safe.

Always walk in the halls.

Let's Learn

What do you think of it?

Step 2: Talk

Lily and Alice talk about the draft.

We should walk in the halls it helps us
be quiet. We can see where we are going.

Walking helps everyone stay safe.

Always walk in the halls.

The last sentence can be more powerful.

Let's Learn

I can say:

- Be sure you...
- Don't forget to...
- Always remember to...

Step 3: Change

Lily uses carets (^) to add words.

We should walk in the halls it helps us
be quiet. We can see where we are going.

Walking helps everyone stay safe.

Be sure you

^ Always walk in the halls.

Let's Learn

How do we edit?

Help Lily check her writing. Mark out all the mistakes with the marks.

We should walk in the halls it helps us
be quiet. We can see where we are going.

Walking helps everyone stay safe.

Be sure you

^ Always walk in the halls.
